TINY HOUSE VILLAGE AT THE BERLIN TRAVEL FESTIVAL

Berlin, November 20, 2023 - A trend that is here to stay: Tiny Houses! This year's Berlin Travel Festival is dedicating an entire area to this ongoing trend, which is now an entire movement. The Tiny House Village is full of different types and concepts of tiny houses that aim to impress visitors. The festival's stages will feature top-class speakers on the topics of vacationing in a tiny house, building and financing your own tiny house and, of course, living in a tiny house.

EVERY TINY HOUSE IS DIFFERENT

This year, ten different compact houses will be rolling onto the exhibition grounds. Visitors can immerse themselves in the world and accommodation of Berghaus Tiny House, Mokabin, Destinature, Precofab, Nawalo, Tiny Space, Tiny Mobile and Basecamp.

Different architectural styles, different interiors and manufacturers. Every Tiny House is different and yet all visitors are sure to find their dream model among the selection of exhibitors. Clever solutions for limited space such as hidden storage areas, multifunctional furniture and energy-efficient technologies - the Tiny House Village exhibitors will impress with their creative ideas. The areas of application are also varied. Tiny Space, for example, offers its houses for rent at events as quiet meeting rooms - mobile offices in the smallest of spaces. Nawalo makes sure that all rooms in their houses are accessible at ground level and therefore easily accessible for everyone. All Tiny House exhibitors can be found HERE.

IT TAKES A VILLAGE...

But it's not just the Tiny Houses that are open to visitors to the Berlin Travel Festival. Informative talks, panels and workshops on the topic round off the Tiny Village experience. Sunday morning at the Berlin Travel Festival Center Court Stage will be all about Tiny Houses. It starts with a keynote speech on the "Path to your own Tiny House" by the founders of the Tinyon community Chris Klerner and Caro Werner. In the panel: "Tippi Toppi Tiny" Dennis Czekalla, CEO Berghaus Tiny House, Fabian Müller, Managing Director VILCOMO GmbH & Co. KG, Simon Kilimann, NAWALO GmbH and presenter Christian Klerner. Various financing, housing and living models that are possible in the Tiny House will be presented and discussed. Simon Kiliman from NAWALO will also remain directly on the Center Stage with his topic: Tiny Houses for Best Ager: More quality of life with a view to personal needs and sustainability.

The panel "Sleeping bag or box spring mattress? Vacation experiences in the wilderness - in a tent, a luxurious cabin or in your own tiny house" is all about how you would like to spend your holiday and in which accommodation.

ABOUT THE BERLIN TRAVEL FESTIVAL

The Berlin Travel Festival is a unique format that explores new perspectives on travel. The three-day event showcases what travel means in today's world - from the way trips are planned to the way moments are captured and shared.

Representing a new generation of travelers, the Berlin Travel Festival focuses on innovative, sustainable concepts and advocates for a better shared future. Ecological and social responsibility are at the heart of the festival's philosophy and of the values of the organisers. The festival embodies the new awareness of travel and tourism and sees it as its mission to exchange and discuss with experts, brands and travelers.

The BERLIN TRAVEL FESTIVAL will take place from December 01 to 03, 2023, in cooperation with BOAT & FUN, ANGLINGWORLD BERLIN and AUTO CAMPING CARAVAN at the Messe Berlin exhibition grounds.
